

PRELIMINARY SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

August 20, 2009 Thursday		August 21, 2009 Friday		August 22, 2009 Saturday
09:00-10:40                         Interactive Session                                          Tradução Simultânea                 	Round table: Aspergillosis in uncommon clinical scenarios: a case-oriented approach  Coordinator: Alessandro C Pasqualotto – Porto Alegre, Brazil  Debate Participantes:                      David W Denning – Manchester, England                      Clóvis Arns da Cunha – Curitiba, Brazil                      Claudio Viscoli – Genoa, Italy Introduction: Alessandro C Pasqualotto – Porto Alegre, Brazil Case 1: A non-neutropenic COPD patient with a lung infiltrate was admitted to the ICU. No response occurred to antibiotic treatment and galactomannan testing was positive in the BAL                      Mauro Salles – São Paulo, Brazil Case 2: Should all asthmatic patients with fungal allergy receive antifungal drugs?                      Nelson do Rosario Filho – Curitiba, Brazil Case 3: A 45 year-old ill-nourished alcoholic patient with previous lung TB presents with fever and haemoptysis. Sputum examination reveals Aspergillus hyphae                      Plínio Trabasso – Campinas, Brazil Case 4: Aspergillus infection in solid organ transplant                      Edison Abdala - São Paulo, Brazil	09:00-10:40                         Interactive Session                 	Round table: Challenging clinical aspects of candidemia  Coordinator: Arnaldo Lopes Colombo – São Paulo, Brazil Caso 1: Paciente crítico na UTI: febre, hipotensão e cultura de sangue positiva para leveduras                      Luis Fernando Camargo Aranha – São Paulo, Brazil Case 2: For the same patient: could we have interfered earlier?                      Luis Fernando Camargo Aranha – São Paulo, Brazil Case 3: A premature neonate with persistent candidemia despite 5 days of amphotericin B                      Rosana Richtmann – São Paulo, Brazil Case 4: A 65 year-old woman with abdominal surgery and persistent candidemia                      Arnaldo Lopes Colombo – São Paulo, Brazil	09:20-10:30                         Tradução Simultânea                 	Round Table: Diagnostic aspects of fungal infections that clinicians should care about  Coordenador: Flávio Queiroz-Telles - Brazil Fast screening tests for fluconazole-resistance in Candida species                      Cornelia Lass-Flörl- Innsbruck, Austria Diagnosis of pulmonary invasive mycoses by CT                      Dante Escuissato – Curitiba, Brazil Optimising diagnosis of fungaemia by molecular methods                      Anely Salles – São Paulo, Brazil
11:00-12:10                         Tradução Simultânea                 	Round Table: Diagnosis of invasive aspergillosis  Coordinator: Marcio Nucci, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil Classical mycology: we still need the basics                      Patrício Godoy – São Paulo, Brazil Potential applications of PCR testing                      Maria Aparecida Shikanai-Yasuda - São Paulo, Brazil Galactomannan testing: lessons from the last decade                      Claudio Viscoli – Genoa, Italy	11:00-12:10	Round table: New insights in endemic mycoses  Coordinator: Flávio Queiroz-Telles - Curitiba, PR Paracoccidioidomycosis: A permanent challenge for clinicians and epidemiologists                      Flávio Queiroz-Telles - Curitiba, PR New antifungal drugs for endemic mycoses                      Marcelo Simão Ferreira - Uberlândia, MG Lessons from Veterinary Mycology: Non-human histoplasmosis and cryptococcosis                      Carlos Eduardo Larsson - São Paulo, Brazil	11:00-12:35	Clinical cases Coordinators:                      Roberto Martinez - Ribeirão Preto, Brazil                      Thaís Guimarães - São Paulo, Brazil Endophthalmitis caused by a mould                      Ana Luisa Höfling-Lima- São Paulo, Brazil Persistent fever and mediastinal lymphadenopathy in an AIDS patient                      Vinícius Ponzio – São Paulo, Brazil Fungal infection in solid organ transplant recipient                      Teresa Cristina Sukiennik – Porto Alegre, Brazil A case of endemic mycosis                      Roberto Martinez - Ribeirão Preto, Brazil

PRELIMINARY SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

14:40-16:00 	Round Table: Hot topics in invasive aspergillosis  Coordinator: Clóvis Arns da Cunha - Curitiba, Brazil Monitoring antifungal treatment response in the neutropenic patient with aspergillosis  Clóvis Arns da Cunha - Curitiba, Brazil Is azole resistance increasing amongst Aspergillus spp.?  Cornelia Lass-Flor - Innsbruck, Austria Invasive aspergillosis in steroid-treated patients  Alessandro Pasqualotto – Porto Alegre, Brazil	14:40-16:00	Round table: Fungal infections in AIDS patients  Coordinator: Luis Thompson - Santiago, Chile Oroesophageal candidiasis: what is new?  Maria Luiza Moretti - Campinas, Brazil Manejo clínico da hipertensão intracraniana de criptococose  Augusto Penalva – São Paulo, Brazil Update on Pneumocystis jirovecii infections  Luis Thompson - Santiago, Chile
---	--	--------------------	--	--	--